CHILDHOOD CANCER CONNECTION

Our Mission

Founded in 1984, Childhood Cancer Connection, Inc. (CCCI) is a non-profit 501 (c)(3) organization supporting children and their families diagnosed with cancer and blood disorders. The organization was started by a group of health professionals to provide additional psychosocial support for children with cancer.

Childhood Cancer Connection provides the following support:

- Exciting summer camp experiences for children at The Rainbow Connection Camp
- Community education and guidebooks for newly diagnosed patients ahead of the treatment process
- Networking opportunities for individuals and families
- Financial assistance for patient related healthcare expenses
- Bereavement support following the death of a child

The Rainbow Connection Camp

The Rainbow Connection Camp is a gold ribbon accredited camp by the Children's Oncology Camping Association (COCA). The camp is sponsored by Childhood Cancer Connection and benefits children and adolescents (ages 6 to 19) who have been treated for cancer or blood disorders at The University of Texas Medical Branch Children's Hospital in Galveston, Texas. The camp is a week long experience and open to the brothers and sisters of diagnosed children as well.
